Joe Bruce will lead this club sponsored event, available to FSFF members for $20 fee to pay for the Icelandic wool hides. All participating members will be actively involved in the dye mixing, cooking, cutting, dyeing, combing and drying processes. Everyone will end up with A LOT of Icelandic wool for tying an array of flies, including one of the club's favorite, the bullethead fly.

A total of 22 club members signed up for the March 2020 wool dyeing session which was canceled due the onset of Covid. And 10 members have already paid their $20 which covers the cost of purchasing the Iceland wool hides. If you did not sign up back in 2020, then email Rich Batiuk to sign up for this session and bring your $20 cash or check made out to Free State Fly Fishers to the January 29 session.

So come on out and join us for a morning of dyeing and fellowship.
